Auracular?—Grant It!

The statement has been in circulation, since Monday, that General Grant was asked, lately, if he would be a candidate for the Presidency, and responded that he would be "deeply gratified to have General Shermann reach the Presidential chair."

Lucy Stone reports that, in her late mission in Kansas, she found negroes everywhere opposed to female suffrage, and a fear that negroes, when enfranchised generally, will cast their votes against the rights of women is said to be the reason why the petticoat leaders of the movement are anxious to press it as much as possible. If this is so, it is ungenerous in the African citizens of the country. The champlons of women's rights have always been in favor of negro suffrage, miscegenation and colof negro suffrage, miscegenation and col-ored enfranchisement generally, and it is very unkind in the darkeys in their days of prosperity to "go back" on their lady one wish, solemnly expressed at the polish steadinstly sithere to the principles of the party as expounded by the fathers, and approved by experience; that in accordance with these principles we declare that the federal Government is a government of limited powers, and that it possesses no powers but such as are expressly, or by necessary implication delegated to lit in the Federal Constitution; that allother powers are reserved to the states or the people; that all grants of power to Government, whether State or Federal, should be strictly construed, because all such grants abridge the natural rights of men; that the preservation of the States and the rights of the States and the reserved in the rights of the States and the reserved in the rights of the States and the reserved in the rights of the States and the reserved in the states of the people is necessary to the preservation of the Union; that the Federal Government is unfitted to legislate for or administer the local concerns of the States; that it would be monstrous that the local affairs of Ohio should be regulated by a Federal Congress in which she has but two Senators, and the New England States, with but a little greater population, havetweive; that the tendency of the Federal Covernment is to usure the reserved rights of the States and of the people; and that, therefore, a centralization of power in that the local affairs of Ohio should be regulated by a Federal Congress in which she has but two Senators, and the New England States, with but a little greater population, havetweive; that the tendency of the Federal Congress in which she has but two Senators, and the New England States, with but a little greater population, havetwive; that the tendency of the Federal Congress in which she has such an also rption of power would, while it lasted, be destructive of the libertles and interests of the people, and would end either in despotism or a destruction of the libertles and interests of the people, and would end either in despotism or a destruction RESOLUTIONS. it lasted, be destructive of the libertles and interests of the people, and would end either in despotism or a destruction of the Union; that a National debt, besides impoverishing the people, fosters an undue increase of the powers of the Federal Government; that high protective tariffs have a like effect, sacrifleing the interests of the many for the emoluments of the few, and plainly violating the equity and spirit of the Constitution; that the collection and disbursement of enormous revenues by the Federal Government have the same tendency, beside corrupting the Government. dency, beside corrupting the Government, and that, therefore, economy is essential not only to the prosperity, but also to the liberties of the people; that unequal taxation is a plain violation of justice, of which no Government can safely be guilty. That to each State belongs the right to determine the qualification of its electors, and all attempts to impair this right, either by Congressional legislation or Constitutional amendment, are unwise and despotic; that the tendency of power is to steal from the many to the few, and that, therefore, "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty;" that the tendency of government is to enlarge its authority by usurpation, and therefore government needs to be watched; that another of its tendencies is to govern too much—unnecessarily and vexationaly interfering with the business and habits of the people; that the freedom of speech and of the press is essential to the existence of liberty; that no person not in the military or naval service, or in the bounds where martial law legitimately prevails, can lawfully be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of civil law; that the courts should always be open for the redress of grievances; that no expost facto law should be made; that the right of the people to peaceably assemble and consult upon public affairs is inviolable; that the millitary should be held in due subjection to the civil power; that while the majority, as prescribed by the Constitution, have the right to govern, the milnority have indefeasible rights; and that a frequent redefeasible rights.

That being thus in the Union, they stand on an equal tooting with their sister States—States with unequal rights being a thing States with unequal rights being a thing unknown to the Constitution; that, by the express terms of the Constitution, each State is entitled to have two Senators and a due proportion of Representatives in the face as nature intended it should be clear, soft Congress, and to vote in all elections of smooth and beautiful. 3. Resolved. That Congress is not an omnipotent law-making power. That the Constitution provides that no bill shall become a law without the approval of the President, unless it be passed by two-thirds of each House of Congress. That one of the objects of the present so-called Congress is excluding States from representation, is to pass bills by a two-thirds vote which, were all the States represented, could not so pass; and thus to virtually abolish the constitutional provision aforesaid. That it this precedent be acquised in, there will be nothing to prevent a bare majority of Congress, at any time in the future, from nullifying the constitutional veto of the President and usurping uncontrolled legislative power, by an exclusion of the minority from their scats. That the exclusion, of even in a single state, might give this control, and a pretex for such an exclusion would not be wanting to an unserupulous and revolutionary party.

4. Resolved. That the people, and especially those of the agricultural States, have suffered too long the exactions of high protective tariffs, and as the representatives of of an agricultural and laboring population, we demand that their substance shall no longer be extorted from them in order fo fill the pockets of Eastern monopolists.

5. Resolved. That unequal taxation is contrary to the first principles of justice and sound policy, and we call upon our states and denotate any of the Workless Institute of the United States, and Forcian Countries in any of the Workless Institute Country. 6. Resoless. That the Radical majority in the so-called Congress have proved themselves to be in layer of Negro Suffrage by forcing it sipon the people of the District of Columbia against their almost unanimous wish, solemnly expressed at the polls, by forcing it upon the people of all the Territories, and by their various devices to coores the people of the South to adopt it; that we are opposed to Negru Suffrage, believing it would be productive of evil to both whites and blacks, and tend to produce a disastrous conflict of races.

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years before the public; and no preparation for the hair has yet been discovered that will produce the same beneficial results. It is an entirely new scientific discovery, combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINDOM. It removes GRAY HAIR TO 178 ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon baid hoads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DEESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one battle witt accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and, in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehood, by clatming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them. Purchase the original: it has never yet been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.
